11th BdF-BoE-BdI International Macroeconomics Workshop:

“Fault Lines in the International Macro Landscape”

31 October 2025, Rome

Banca d'Italia, the Bank of England and Banque de France are jointly organizing the 11th edition of their International Macroeconomics Workshop on 31 October 2025. The keynote lecture will be given by Fabrizio Perri (Minneapolis FED). The workshop will take place in Rome at the Banca d'Italia.

This edition focuses on emerging and evolving risks facing the global economy. We invite theoretical and empirical research covering the following topics:

- The macroeconomics of trade policy
- Capital controls, FX interventions and the future of dollar dominance
- Global policy uncertainty and macroeconomic volatility
- International spillovers from fiscal and monetary policy divergence
- Rising sovereign risks, reserve currencies and the role of alternative assets
- New global drivers for inflation dynamics and challenges for central banks
- Geopolitical risks shaping real and financial fragmentation

The deadline for submitting a paper is 15 June 2025. Please submit full papers via e-mail to InternationalMacroWorkshop2025@bancaditalia.it. Authors of selected papers will be contacted by 4 July 2025. The submitting author is expected to present. Financial support for travel expenses and accommodation for academic speakers is available (CEPR guidelines apply).
