Call for papers

Banque de France – EMU Lab Conference

Global and Domestic Stabilization in the Face of International Risks

Florence, March 15-16, 2027

Hosted by the European University Institute

Organisers:

Marco Buti (Tommaso Padoa-Schioppa Chair, RSC-EUI)

Nuno Coimbra (Banque de France)

Giancarlo Corsetti (European University Institute)

Giulia Sestieri (Banque de France)

The Banque de France (BdF) and the EMU Lab at the European University Institute (EUI) are organizing their yearly joint conference that will take place in Florence on March 15-16, 2027. The conference will feature Lucrezia Reichlin as keynote speaker. It will cover a variety of themes related to the new directions in academic research and their policy implications. These topics include (but are not limited to):

- The Future of the International Monetary System
- Dominant currencies and the evolving role of the USD and the Euro
- Global capital flows and financial fragmentation
- Fiscal and monetary policy interactions in open economy: the international policy mix
- The role of commodities in the new global economy
- Industrial policy in open economies
- International cooperation in a fragmenting world
- Digital assets and the future of money

Both theoretical and empirical papers are suited, and applications using euro area data are particularly welcome.

The deadline for submissions is November 30, 2026. Papers or extended abstracts can be submitted to the following email address: pwc@eui.eu.

Authors of successful submissions will be notified by December 15, 2026. Travel reimbursements in economy class (up to 450 Euros) and accommodation in Florence (up to 2 nights) will be available for participants from academic institutions.

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union